

LUKE 9

Words and Music © Nicky Chiswell 2005

Sun is going down
There's that pink light all around
The world is spinning round
Another night, another day
There comes a point in time
The choice is yours and mine
Was he some inspiring figure or something else
Something divine?

And we were all in that boat
When you stilled the storm
And we said, 'Who on earth is this man?'
Now the tide's turning
Now you're asking me...

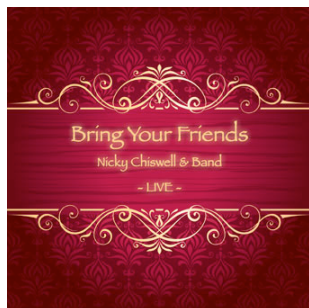

*And I could hedge my bets
I could shrug my shoulders
Look down to the ground
Or I could bow my knee*

The blind receive their sight
The lame can walk upright
The deaf can hear
The dumb, their voices cry out
To us this night

You said, 'Little girl arise!'
She opened up her eyes
Slowly I realise
Who on earth you might be

And we're all in this place
Looking at you
When you said, 'Who do you say I am?'
Your gaze is turning
Now you're asking me

And I could hedge my bets...

This song comes from the album Bring Your Friends
(© Nicky Chiswell 2011)

To buy this album or download this MP3, visit www.nickychiswell.com